For the first few years the only broadcasts from outside the station were home hockey and basketball games. In 1954 this service was expanded to include out of town hockey games. In 1955 dances were broadcast for the first time.

Another important development was the formation of the North Country Network last May uniting WNTC and St. Lawrence's KSCU. Through this network the station can now obtain world news as well as a number of additional programs which will include some St. Lawrence hockey games.

During the past ten years the campus station has grown from a dream of a handful of interested students to one of the largest organizations on campus with nearly 120 persons lending their talents. It might be well to mention here that more students from either SUTCP or Clarkson are always needed and anyone interested in participating should contact station manager Joe Hessler, assistant station manager Delores Manley or Operations Manager Jerry Brill. In order to provide an even greater variety of programs and add to your listening pleasure in the future WNTC is now trying to make arrangements to acquire more operating space and studios with improved soundproofing.

W.N.T.C. Celebrates 10th Anniversary in November

At 11:30 p. m. Nov. 11, WNTC completed a 55 hour marathon broadcast commemorating the 10th anniversary of the organization of the station. The regular programs went on as scheduled at 4:30 p. m. Friday afternoon and the time between the standard broadcasts was filled with disc jockeys, a re-broadcast of an army program tribute to Clarkson and the Varsity vs. Alumni hockey game.

When actual broadcasting began November 10, 1948, WNTC had to struggle along with an absolute minimum of facilities and home-made equipment. Since then much expansion and improvement has been brought about. Originally
